Handbook for Faculty Advisers and Chapter Coordinators

Revised August 2008

August 26, 2008

Dear Faculty Advisers and Chapter Coordinators:

August 2008! After what I hope was a productive and/or restful summer, we find ourselves embarking on an important year for Alpha Sigma Nu. Working with the ideas, energy, and momentum coming out of the Faculty Adviser Conference, the Board and staff are developing a pilot program implementing programs discussed at the Conference. We hope you will be interested in participating. More details will follow.

You are the spirit and guide of Alpha Sigma Nu, providing a touchstone to the student members. On behalf of the Board and staff of $A\Sigma N$, I thank you for your service and leadership. The meaning of Alpha Sigma Nu membership hinges on the experience the student member has on campus. Whether students understand and value membership, are active in the campus Chapter, join our Alumni Clubs, and support us financially in the future depends on the connection they make to the Society as students.

You will find enclosed the Faculty Adviser Handbook Part III for 2008-09. Please discard the 2007-08 Part III (pages 29-43). All other sections of the Handbook are current*. As you know, you can also find this handbook online at www.AlphaSigmaNu.org under Faculty Advisers.

The student Chapter Committee has kicked off the year successfully with two teleconferences gathering the Chapter presidents. We ask that you distribute student Chapter handbooks to the president of your Chapter. They are enclosed.

We love hearing from you here at the Central Office. Please call if you have a concern, suggestion, or a question. And please know that we are most grateful for your dedication and commitment to Alpha Sigma Nu.

Sincerely,

Kate Gaertner
Executive Director

Kak Sauln

^{*}please note that the cost of graduation medallions has increased to $15 per medallion for the 2008-09 academic year.

Alpha Sigma Nu Information

Purpose of this Handbook

This handbook is a guide for Alpha Sigma Nu Faculty Advisers, Chapter Coordinators and officers at Jesuit institutions of higher education. The handbook lends uniformity to all Chapter operations without undue restrictions.

Faculty Advisers and Chapter officers have access to the resources of the Central Office, but can often save time by consulting this handbook for guidelines of operation. You will find references to the Bylaws, which you can find at our web site (www.alphasigmanu.org). This reference guide also provides background information about A Σ N. New Advisers will find this information helpful to maintain continuity of operations and traditions on their campuses and to guide their Chapter officers in the administration of Chapter business.

The A Σ N Central Office welcomes your questions and suggestions. Faculty Advisers should bring concerns to our attention and maintain good communication with the Central Office. Please send us your e-mail address so we can send you vital information during the course of the year.

The Role of the Faculty Adviser

The importance of the Faculty Adviser to a local Chapter of Alpha Sigma Nu cannot be overemphasized. Each Chapter will operate effectively and perform its functions in proportion to the enthusiasm, initiative, and creative spirit of its Faculty Adviser. Each member's connection to the Society depends on his/her experience as a student inductee.

Although the active members should assume the responsibility of conducting the Chapter's affairs, the leadership role of the Faculty Adviser is critical. Student enthusiasm must be translated into action and deadlines must be met. Faculty Advisers are responsible for the Alpha Sigma Nu's image on their campuses, as well as the communication of the society's ideals to each new generation of honor students.

Faculty Advisers:

- Provide instruction and inspiration for the local Chapter.
- Facilitate all interactions with the Central Office.
- Direct the students in the screening and selection of new members.
- Report the inductees to the Central Office. Specific deadlines are necessary to ensure that the annual induction of new students can be achieved successfully. Please see this handbook's Section II for details.
- Oversee the planning of the induction ceremony. The annual ceremony is important in establishing the prestige of $A\Sigma N$. The event need not be elaborate nor beyond the means of the student or institution, but it should be well planned and executed. The ceremony gives ample latitude to enable the Faculty Adviser and Chapter officers to conduct an event that will stand out in the academic lives of their students.
- Guide the student members in managing the local Chapter. Because Chapter Officers change every year, the Faculty Adviser will need to be sensitive to the leadership potential of each group of officers and compensate for occasional lapses. The Faculty Adviser should remain as a constant source of direction while the students assume responsibility for promoting the Chapter on campus.
- Encourage A Σ N alumni participation in Chapter activities.
- Establish a noteworthy presence on campus to attract strong candidates. Membership in $A\Sigma N$ is the most prestigious honor a Jesuit institution can award, and all qualified students should be aware of their eligibility.

Chapter Operations

It is Alpha Sigma Nu's policy to allow the local Chapters and Faculty Advisers to establish their own projects and manage their operations as local circumstances dictate. Since conditions vary greatly from one campus to another, the Central Office does not dictate actual operations. Here are guidelines to assist in the process of conducting Chapter operations.

I. By-Laws

Develop and update your own Chapter Bylaws. These documents can help to clarify officers' duties, time and frequency of meetings, financial arrangements, election of officers, etc. This will encourage stability and continuity for the Chapter.

II. Officers

The number of officers and their duties should be determined by the local Chapter. We recommend a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer as minimum. Please see pg. 34 for a form to provide the Central Office with the new officers' contact information.

III. Meetings

Some Chapters meet frequently, while others come together only to select candidates and plan the induction ceremony. Each Chapter will determine the occasions and times of their meetings. The following are possibilities:

- A. Liturgy for officers and membership
- B. Informal social with a guest speaker
- C. Meeting with active members and local A Σ N alumni
- D. Chapter Officer meeting at the beginning and/or end of the school year with Faculty Adviser to establish work assignments and committees

IV. Projects

Many Chapters find that projects enhance the prestige of A Σ N and that members can make a unique contribution to the culture of their college or university.

Chapters have provided these examples of past projects:

- A. Invite A Σ N alumni to speak about careers, ethics, and other issues
- B. Create a Chapter web page
- C. Sponsor prominent speakers and events on campus
- D. Conduct honors convocations
- E. Administer a "Faculty of the Year" award
- F. Assist in student orientation programs
- G. Conduct forums on current or controversial issues
- H. Provide tutoring services for other students

V. Records

The Faculty Adviser should preserve the Chapter's records. These records include an accurate list of all members, meeting minutes, and financial records.

The Adviser ensures that the new officers receive their materials at the start of each new term. Only the Faculty Adviser can provide the stability and continuity needed for accurate record keeping and effective Chapter management.

VI. Annual Reports

The A Σ N Central Office provides forms (see Section III) to be filled out both by the Faculty Adviser and Chapter Secretary and returned to our office after your induction and prior to the end of the academic year. The Central Office staff relies on these reports to:

- A. Assess Chapter's activities for the year
- B. Collect the Chapter news for newsletter articles and Web page articles
- C. Share ideas for programs and best practices

VII. Alumni Clubs

The $A\Sigma N$ Board strongly supports the establishment of Alumni Clubs. The Central Office can assist with member lists, mailings, etc. For a list of current Alumni Clubs, please see Section III of this handbook.

VIII. Sustaining Fund Drive

The continued growth of our annual Sustaining Fund reflects alumni interest and support. This program of voluntary giving to Alpha Sigma Nu supports student scholarships, the Book Awards, the operation of the A Σ N Central Office, and the Triennial Conference.

IX. Induction of University Leaders

The Faculty Adviser, College/University president, and the Chief Academic Officer of your institution are to be members of Alpha Sigma Nu. If they are not already members at the time of their appointment, please induct them as honorary members at the first ceremony after their appointments at no cost to the Chapter. Include their names with your order for pendants/pins and certificates. Prompt notification of such appointments is appreciated.

The $A\Sigma N$ Central Office

The Central Office ensures the integrity and meaning of membership. The staff promotes and coordinates the total operation of Alpha Sigma Nu and serves the local Chapters/Clubs and Faculty Advisers. All questions regarding procedures should be directed to the Central Office.

Central Office Responsibilities

Governance

 $A\Sigma N$ is governed by a Board of Directors, whose members bear the final burden of responsibility for the success of the society. $A\Sigma N$ seeks to recruit a diverse and well qualified Board. The Board Directors and Officers are available as consultants to Faculty Advisers and Chapter/Club officers.

Institutional Records

The Central Office keeps accurate records of all Alpha Sigma Nu members, including the member database and the web site. The Executive Director is responsible for managing the society's financial affairs and filing all required reports with state and federal agencies. Historical records are filed with the Marquette University archives. Minutes of all Board and committee meetings are maintained by the Central Office.

Sustaining Fund

Alpha Sigma Nu directs an annual Sustaining Fund Appeal to members whose financial support is vital to the health of the society. The fund supports scholarships at all 33 Jesuit institutions of higher education and the Alpha Sigma Nu Book Awards given each year to faculty and staff members from Jesuit institutions of higher education. Additionally, the fund supports the Triennial Conference and expenses of the $A\Sigma N$ Central Office.

Triennial Conference

Alpha Sigma Nu convenes every third year at a Jesuit campus selected by the Board of Directors. Invitations to host this event are welcomed from all Chapters. According to the A Σ N Bylaws, each Chapter can sends a Faculty Adviser and Chapter president, and each Alumni Clubs sends one voting delegate to the conference.

AΣN Newsletter

The A Σ N Newsletter is published by the Central Office and mailed to all members. Please encourage members to notify the office of changes of address. The Central Office welcomes any information about Chapter/Club members and activities. Photographs are needed for every issue.

Induction Services

The Central Office certifies all new inductees and supplies induction materials (jewelry, graduation medallions, certificates, program covers, etc.) to the Faculty Advisers in a timely manner.

Professional Organizations

Alpha Sigma Nu is a member of the Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities and is certified by the Association of College Honor Societies.

Monthly Mass for the Deceased

The Faculty Adviser on the A Σ N Board offers a monthly mass for all deceased members of Alpha Sigma Nu. Please notify the Central Office of any recently deceased members.

History of $A\Sigma N$

Alpha Sigma Nu was founded in 1915 at Marquette University. The men's honor society, known as Alpha Sigma Tau until 1930, spread from Marquette to Creighton University, to St. Louis University, and to the University of Detroit (now UD Mercy) in its first decade.

In 1924, Gamma Pi Epsilon was founded to honor outstanding women. Alpha Sigma Nu and Gamma Pi Epsilon pursued separate but similar paths for almost 50 years, expanding nationally and cooperating on campuses where they existed together.

The two organizations agreed to merge in 1973, when Gamma Pi Epsilon had 14 Chapters and Alpha Sigma Nu had 22. With the merger in Omaha, Gamma Pi Epsilon ceased as all their members became members of the new Alpha Sigma Nu.

In May 1975, the Alpha Sigma Nu Board of Directors hired an executive director. The society was incorporated as a not-for-profit organization in the state of Wisconsin in 1977 and in 1978 was listed by the Internal Revenue Service as a non-profit organization.

Today, Alpha Sigma Nu is open to men and women at Chapters on all 30 campuses in the United States, two in Canada, and one in Korea. With more than 60,000 known members, Alpha Sigma Nu initiates more than 1,800 students and honorary members each year.

AΣN Alumni Clubs

Alpha Sigma Nu Alumni Clubs encourage lifelong commitment to the $\Delta\Sigma N$ values of scholarship, loyalty, and service; the ideals of Jesuit education; and Ignatian spirituality. Clubs participate in service projects, present speaker events, develop programs that connect faith with life, and provide a venue for career and social networking. Each club determines its own activities and agenda, with the $\Delta\Sigma N$ values of Scholarship, Loyalty, and Service acting as the focus.

Alumni Clubs are can work with Chapters to:

- Collaborate on service projects, speaker events, and other programming.
- Serve as A Σ N ambassadors at local induction ceremonies.
- Provide career and social contacts for graduating A Σ N members.

At the 2006 Triennial Conference, alumni and student members of Alpha Sigma Nu expressed interest in collaborating on service projects, speaker events, mentoring, and career/social networking. Alumni Clubs would like regular contact with student Chapters where possible.

The Role of the Faculty Adviser in Alumni Clubs

Some Faculty Advisers have been instrumental in local Club formation. Others serve as an informal liaison between the Club and the Jesuit institution by assisting in meeting room reservation, informing the institution's administration of the Club, and acting as a resource for alumni. The Central Office encourages each Faculty Adviser to establish a working relationship with local $A\Sigma N$ alumni.

Recruitment of New Members

Students I.

Article III of the Bylaws details the qualifications for membership. The Central Office does not dictate one specific method for selecting qualified candidates for membership. Below are two methods for consideration:

- 1. Selection by student members: A list of academically-qualified students should be obtained from the institution's registrar. The Chapter officers evaluate eligible students based on academic achievement and service activities. The officers create and present a list of inductee candidates to the Faculty Adviser for approval.
- 2. Selection by dean: Deans at some institutions may know their students well enough to nominate outstanding candidates without further consultation. However, we suggest the Faculty Adviser and the Chapter officers check the qualifications of each candidate. It is the role of the Faculty Adviser to consult with recommending deans on the service and loyalty requirements.

A few other notes to consider:

1. Scheduling the induction ceremony

The Bylaws do not prescribe a time or season for induction ceremonies, so the decision rests with the local Chapter and its traditions. Many Chapters induct new members in the spring, but some are changing to fall or early winter, as this allows juniors the opportunity to become involved and active while on campus.

Make sure you begin the induction process early enough so both the Chapter and the A Σ N Central Office will have enough time to process all necessary invitations, paperwork, and orders. Whichever selection method you chose, be sure to include a firm response deadline in the initial membership application and then stick to that date. See the Induction Timeline Checklist for a guide to planning your Chapter's induction responsibilities throughout year.

2. Chapters are encouraged to induct the full 4% of juniors, up to 4% of seniors, and the full 4% of graduate students.

II. Presidential Nomination of Students

The Bylaws allow the institution president to nominate up to three (3) additional student inductees who fulfill the requirements of Alpha Sigma Nu. Presidential nominees should meet all membership requirements of Scholarship, Loyalty, and Service.

III. Honorary Membership

A Chapter may select a person who has distinguished him/herself in scholarship, loyalty and service to be awarded an honorary membership into the Society. Each Chapter may induct four honorary members each year. All nominations shall be approved by the President of the institution.

Each Chapter is responsible for the induction fee for each honorary member. Fees are waived for the institution presidents, chief academic officers, and Faculty Advisers. Please report any changes to this leadership promptly to the Central Office.

Ordering Pendants, Pins, Certificates, and Medallions

Alpha Sigma Nu provides each new inductee with either an $A\Sigma N$ pendant or pin, to be presented during the induction ceremony. Please indicate the inductee's choice on the New Members Spreadsheet, following the instructions carefully. The total number of inductees and number of pins/pendants and medallions needed is required information on the Induction Order Form.

Further notes on ordering:

- Submit the New Members Spreadsheet via e-mail when your induction information is complete. Do not change the spreadsheet headings. If you do not have the current spreadsheet template, contact the Central Office and we will email a new form to you.
- Mail the Induction Order Form with accompanying signatures no later than six weeks before your induction. The Central Office will process your order promptly, but our suppliers need six weeks to guarantee delivery of your order. Orders will be shipped directly to the Faculty Adviser or Coordinator. All jewelry and certificates, including replacements, must be ordered through the Central Office before May 1 each year.
- Honorary Membership Applications and fees for honorary inductees should be included at the time of your order.
- Send a single check to cover total induction fees when submitting your order forms. We suggest that you collect the individual induction fees well in advance of the ceremony if your Chapter does not cover the cost of induction fees.
- Please take care to provide accurate names, permanent address, and other inductee information to the Central Office. Alpha Sigma Nu inductees have lifetime membership benefits and will continue to receive communication after they leave their institution. Accuracy of the database is critical to successful communication with our members. Correction of errors on induction orders may result in additional fees to the Chapter.
- Medallions may be ordered via the Induction Order Form or later in the year as graduation nears. Since no engraving is involved, medallion orders can be processed in two weeks. Medallions purchased with your induction order cost $15 with no shipping charges. Individual medallions ordered separately cost $15 each, plus $5 for shipping and handling. An order form can be downloaded at www.alphasigmanu.org.
- Replacement $A\Sigma N$ jewelry and certificates, as well as other regalia, can be purchased through the Alpha Sigma Nu web site. Check the web or call the Central Office for current information and pricing.

Public Announcement of Your New A Σ N Members

Public announcement of your induction helps promote the prestige of Alpha Sigma Nu on every campus. This may require the cooperation of your public relations department and other staff members.

Here are a few suggestions to consider:

- Personal letter to inductee from the Chapter president, Faculty Adviser, or institution president
- Letters of congratulations to parents and spouses
- Announcement and/or listing at honors convocation
- News releases to campus paper, hometown papers, area papers, and broadcast media when appropriate
- Notification to inductee's high school
- Announced on Chapter and/or institution's Web site
- Recognition at Commencement Exercises and in program
- Mention in a student yearbook

The Induction Ceremony

Your induction ceremony may include a reception and/or dinner, brunch, or a special liturgy. Some feature a speaker chosen from the faculty, honorary members or other sources.

All Alpha Sigma Nu induction ceremonies should:

- Communicate the honor and prestige of the Society
- Provide an opportunity to welcome new members
- Encourage those members attending to participate in Chapter activities
- Educate members about the mission and purpose of the Society
- Include the reading of the A Σ N Pledge by new inductees

Specific notes regarding the ceremony:

Induction Ceremony Ritual Packet

Refer to the Induction Ceremony Ritual Packet found on the $A\Sigma N$ web page (www.AlphaSigmaNu.org) often while preparing your induction. The Ritual Packet gives the Chapters a great deal of latitude in planning the ceremony, but provides several suggestions that have proven useful. The Central Office also has hard copies of the Rituals available upon request.

Guests

Families of the inductees, deans, other administrators, faculty members, and $A\Sigma N$ alumni and officers of Alumni Clubs are often invited to the ceremony. When possible, the Executive Director and/or Board Officers also welcome invitations to participate in the ceremony. Contact information for these individuals is located in the Appendix of this Handbook.

• Induction program covers

The Central Office offers an attractive cover for induction programs, which you may order at no charge. The program cover contains Alpha Sigma Nu's background, criteria, history, and pledge. Simply contact the Central Office and ask for as many as you like. A sample is provided in the appendix.

Faculty Adviser Checklist
